Today, you need to hear about another Warrior, USMC Maj James Capers Jr., ...

SOFREP on New MARSOC Commander: SOFREP released another article about the MARSOC 3 highlighting the fact that despite there was a new MARSOC commander, there was still the same “false advertising about the Marine Raider ‘family’ and called upon MARSOC to take a fresh look at the case and the exonerating video evidence.

UAP Car Wrapped: Thanks to a generous donation from UAP’s board, UAP was able to wrap the car that will be used for events and travel which allows us to raise awareness for our Warriors while on the road.

Major Capers Event: UAP spent the weekend in Bishopville, South Carolina with the MARSOC 3 to honor USMC Major Jim Capers at a birthday celebration, parade, and ceremony where he was honored with a permanent bronze wall sculpture. UAP shared several live videos of speakers, photos, and more information about Major Capers and his background via social media during the events.

Chief Eric Gilmet Rejected from UNC Graduate School: UNC Chapel Hill’s Graduate Program prejudicially rejected decorated medic Chief Eric Gilmet from admission to their Master’s program. Gilmet had not been convicted of a crime nor had he even been to trial at this point (nor did he commit a crime in the first place). The university determined his “alleged behavior is more likely than not to pose a danger to members of the university community, university property, or the proper function of the academic process” despite the fact that under normal circumstances 97% of this program is completed online. UAP continued to raise awareness about this injustice and called on supporters to share the info in support of Chief Gilmet.

Date set for 1SG Hatley’s Homecoming Event: UAP shared a ‘Save the Date’ post with initial information on how to register for 1SG John Hatley’s Homecoming event in Groesbeck, Texas on October 19, 2020. Those who were interested in attending were reminded registration would be mandatory as seating would be limited to help comply with social distancing guidelines.

MARSOC 3 completed a “Semper Fidelis Walk”: The MARSOC 3 shared video updates for social media from the road during their walk on 9/11 calling people to come together and thanking everyone for their continued support.

GoFundMe Removed MARSOC 3 Fundraiser: GoFundMe shut down a fundraiser that was set up for the MARSOC 3 yet continued to allow money to be raised for people accused of violent crimes. Attorney Phil Stackhouse called this a disgrace and stated when his client is exonerated, they will explore all available legal recourse against the people and organizations who attempted to prevent a fair trial. UAP shared information about this and other injustices continually taking place against the MARSOC 3 and reminded supporters they could still donate via UAP’s website.

Nick Coffman Joined UAP: UAP announced with supporters and followers that former US Marine and respected military journalist, Nick Coffman, had joined the organization on a permanent basis to help fight for justice for our Warriors.
